

You and your ship are trapped in the path of the approaching planet's...all intent on destroying you.

They burst their moons out of orbit and at your ship. You must first destroy all the moons...the planet itself is temporarily protected by a force field.

When the moons are destroyed, the planet becomes vulnerable to your attack. It goes red with anger and attacks your ship. While the battle rages, fierce comets enter the arena to make your mission even more dangerous.

Save the marooned astronauts for bonus points. After every attack wave comes a bonus round. Keep hitting the comets and you keep playing...picking up astronauts for bonus points.

Mad Planet's sensitive dual controls respond instantly to your commands. The action is fast and furious...and only the pilot with nerves of steel will escape the fury of Mad Planet's.
